Goebelism still smells to heaven throughout the state. What a curse is evil.

The present congress promises to wind up its term fighting right up to the end.

Every man who blows his own horn is not a musician and not one out of a hundred ever will be.

Thomas A. Edison, in a recent interview, declares his belief that electricity should be introduced in the public schools as a study, to rank in importance with spelling and arithmetic.

New South Wales has never known such suffering from drought as she is now experiencing. Over 30,000,000 sheep have perished, and if rain does not come very soon the entire country will be swept of these wealth-producing animals.

The death rate in Chicago has reached fifteen to the thousand and the people are getting alarmed. We see little effort is being made by our council to improve Paducah's sanitary condition, when her death rate is over twice fifteen.

The state of Oregon is a very profitable field for the hunter. She pays bounties for the scalps of coyotes, wild cats, mountain lions, panthers, cougars and gray and timber wolves. During last year she disbursed $100,000 in this industry.

In New York the skyscrapers now under construction along Wall street will be about as much under as above the ground. The foundations of some of them have been carried by shafts to a depth of 130 feet. Some of these are very expensive, so far as labor is concerned, inasmuch as the compressed air is so trying on the workmen that they get a full day's pay for one and a half hour's work.

Why can't Paducah get a publication of its financial condition? The council has a clerk and a financial board and statements should be easily made. There are charges of misappropriations of funds, and extravagance if not criminal expenditures, which may or may not be correct. The council owes it to itself if not to the people to explain. The old order and practice of years was to print an annual statement of the city's financial condition, and this practice should be resumed.

There is a suggestion that New York city and environs be made a state, "The Metropolitan," and of course the state is a political move of the gang in control of the city. The plan would include the New Jersey counties of Hudson, Bergen, Essex and Union and a portion of Passaic county, which contains Paterson. This would leave the remainder of the present states of New York and New Jersey very small affairs indeed and would create a new commonwealth having 4,856,000 people, second only to Pennsylvania in population, without any rural or farming inhabitants and easily first in wealth. What a snap it would be for the gang and what a power would be its boss.

The Lang administration has immortalized itself by building a 10x12 coop at the city hall for the patrol wagon. In the front of this grand and costly pile there is a tablet that does the immortalizing. The tablet contains an inscription reminding the generations to come that J. M. Lang was mayor when this beautiful edifice was erected. As the size of the building, its appearance and architecture are synonyms of the accomplishments, capacity and ability of the present administration, we see no reason why the tablet should not perform its mission, unless it will operate as an unpleasant reminder to the present generation of the great mistake it made four years ago.

Apparently the military part of the Philippine problem will be solved in a very short time. The civil part of the question, however, will soon have to be dealt with, and this will offer some difficulties, at least on the start. There is the issue of the friars to settle, and this will have to be handled delicately. A large majority of the natives in some of the districts in the islands are hostile to the friars, and their opinions will have to be accorded some weight. Of course, this country does not interfere in religious matters in any of the possessions. All faiths are on an equality before the law in the United States and for its territories. But some accommodation will have to be made in this matter, and there is good reason to assume that a solution will be reached which will be satisfactory to both sides, and subserve the ends of justice and the good of the Philippines.

WISDOM OF CURRENT FICTION.

A man that'd expect to thrain lobsters to fly in a year is called a loony-tic; but a man that thinks men can be turned into angels by an illiction is called a rafterman and remain at large.—Mr. Dooley.

After all, a politician is like so much tobacco. The public smokes him; if he's for the moment he's a cigarette; a man of the session may be a cigar; but the biggest of them is only a pouchful of tobacco.—Lord Lillithgow.

Is it not strange how often, to test our happiness, we harp on sorrow. I know I have read somewhere that great love always entails pain. I have not found it yet; but for me it does mean fear.—An Englishwoman's Love Letters.

We see man far removed from the instincts of jungles, his innate instincts dulled by too near an approach to free will, his free will not sufficiently developed to replace his instincts and afford perfect guidance.—The Fortune of Day.

Nobody'll die in heaven 'less he'd oughter. To my way o' thinkin' it'll be a good deal like Dave Browner's farm—nice, smooth land, 'n' white clover a plenty. Folks sayin' "how d'y dew" 'stid o' "good bye," comin' 'stid o' goin'."—Eben Holden.

Don't let the hand of time paint wrinkles on your face. Keep young, by keeping the blood pure and the digestive organs in a healthful condition. HERBINE will do this. Health is youth, disease and sickness brings old age. Price, 50 cents. DuBois & Co.

A TOWN'S GOOD LUCK.

Huntington, W. Va., is one of three cities in the United States where telephone service is had absolutely free of charge. In that town the Bell and a home company are fighting tooth and nail, and three years ago the Bell created a sensation by announcing that until further notice its service would be given free of charge. This was expected to crush the home company, but, contrary to expectations, it has thrived; its rates have not been cut and the number of 'phones has increased. Of course, there has been an active demand for the free Bell 'phones, but the company is slow in complying with requests for the installation of instruments.

Asilo from its free service the Bell gives a wider service, but the fact that the home company is owned largely by local persons has, given it a foothold which it is apparently destined to maintain. New Philadelphia, O., near Wheeling, is another town where the Bell gives an absolutely free service, owing to competition with a home company.

Nervous children are almost always thin children. The "out-door-boy" is seldom nervous. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE is the best preventive of nervousness. It strengthens the system and assists to that sort of flesh, which creates strength and power of endurance. Price 25 cents. DuBois & Co.

CENTER SHOTS.

(From Princeton Chronicle.)
The kind of men who quit work to take a girl buggy riding make better beaux than husbands. Every once in a while one of those beaux gets married and his wife wears her old clothes longer than any other woman in her circle. This is one of the things girls blunder into; the belief that a good beaux will be a good husband.

The kind of people who will cry at a theater will walk to the front and confess religion at a revival, if properly worked upon. Both indicate an emotional temperament, and the work of the actor is as lasting as that of the preacher.

There are two kinds of fools in this world for whom there is no earthly hope of wisdom. One is afraid of nothing and the other is afraid of everything.

Are you nervous, run down, weak and dispirited? Take a few doses of HERBINE. It will infuse new energy, new life into the exhausted nerves, the overworked brain or muscular system, and put a new face on life and business. Price, 50 cents. DuBois & Co.

MOTHERS OF FAMOUS SONS.

Women Whose Influence has Helped to Mould Great Minds and Make Noble Careers Possible.

(Mary Lowe Dickinson.)

"A MODEL FOR MOTHERS."

It was Garibaldi who said of his mother, a woman of humble station: "She was a model for mothers. Her tender affection for me has perhaps, been excessive, but I do not owe to her love, to her angelic character, the little good that belongs to mine? Often, amidst the most arduous scenes of my tumultuous life, when I have passed unharmed through the breakers of the ocean or the hailstorms of battle, she has seemed present with me. I have, in fancy, seen her on her knees before the Most High—my dear mother—imploping for the life of her son, and I have believed in the efficacy of her prayers." "Give me the mothers of the nation to educate, and you may do what you like with the boys," was one of his favorite maxims.

In all the touching examples of the influence of motherhood, there is no story more tender than that of the devotion and the prayers that were rewarded finally by the conversion of St. Augustine. The heart-communion of son and mother was indeed "a fellowship of kindred minds."

MOSQUITO DECLARED A YELLOW FEVER PROPAGATOR BY MEDICAL COMMISSION.

Says a Havana telegram: An interesting paper was read before the Pan-American Medical congress by Dr. Reed on the propagation of yellow fever by mosquitoes. The specific cause of yellow fever still continued unknown, he said, but the work of the yellow fever commission at Quemado had conclusively proved, in his opinion, that the mosquito served as an intermediary in conveying the disease, the spread of which was due to this medium alone. The commission had concluded, therefore, Dr. Reed added, that the disinfection of clothing was not only unnecessary, but useless, owing to the impossibility of contagion from such a source.

"The experiments of the commission showed," said Dr. Reed, "that the mosquito is unable to propagate the disease until twelve days after being infected, and is only infected by biting a yellow fever patient during the first two days of the patient's illness. The same result was found inecting the blood of a yellow fever patient into a healthy system. Blood taken after the first two days' illness does not eject the second subject."

"The length of time during which a mosquito can retain the poisonous germs has not yet been determined; but an instance came under observation of the commission where a mosquito after fifty-one days infected a subject with a pronounced case of yellow fever. The mosquito of the yellow fever type is much smaller than the mosquito of the malarial. It is a distinct species and propagates day and night."

Harbour's WARMING WORK TO THE

The work of turning winter goods into money goes merrily on. We're warmed up to it; we don't stop at just profit loss; we don't shy at cost. What price will move this or that goods, that's the only question just now. Once answered down goes the price accordingly. We are sustaining losses, but we think they are wise losses, because in getting the cash out of winter goods enables us to put the money into quick selling goods for spring and thereby we expect to pick up these losses several times before another winter.

DRESS GOODS.

If you have a dress goods want don't fail to give us an opportunity to please you and save you money. We are willing to take a loss on a good many goods now that are just what you need to buy, if you need at all.
